Since 1993, Northwest Translations has been a global leader in providing exceptional high quality document translations with emphasis in the medical/life sciences, legal, engineering and marketing/advertising disciplines. Globally, we have native language, field-specific linguists who meet the stringent requirements of the EN 15038 Translation Standard.

Our strength is in document translation services in OVER 100 languages ensuring that your message is as clear and accurate in the target language as it is in the source language.

Why choose Northwest Translations:

- Exceptional client customer service
- Translation specialists in medical/life sciences, engineering, legal, and marketing/advertising translation
- EN 15038:2006 certified translation service provider
- FAST turnaround - no rush charges
- Multilingual desktop publishing, simultaneous interpretation and video voice-overs
- Rare language specialists

Top level translators

We employ an extensive network of translators covering over 100 languages. Northwest Translations has earned a reputation as one of the most competent and reliable translators in the industry. Our translators comply to the EN 15038 Translation Service Provider Standard. Each translator is a native speaker of the target language and must have extensive experience in the subject/field being translated. 1-800

Quality Assurance

Each project team consists of a professional translator and separate editor, both with specific subject area expertise as well as native speakers of the target language. Northwest Translations assigns one project manager to work with individual clients to act as a liaison to ensure that our clients receive customized service. This team approach enables Northwest Translations to provide clients with a multi-step quality assurance process ensuring high-quality, accurate translations as if they were originally developed in the target language.

Notarized Translations

We provide notarized translations upon request.

Certified Translation

A Certificate of Translation will be provided upon completion of the project at no charge. This Certificate includes the name of the document and the language for submission for FDA submission or any other legal purpose.

Summary/Draft Translations

Summary/Draft translations provide our clients with an overview of a large document at a much lesser cost.

Industries Served

Medical/Life Sciences Translation

As native speakers of the target language, with extensive experience in the highly specialized medical and life science field, Northwest Translations' linguists meet the competency requirements of EN 15038:2006. We have a complete understanding of every aspect of all phases of clinical trials and drug application submissions to patient-reported outcomes and targeted marketing campaigns. This understanding ensures that your ICFs, protocols, and patient diaries will be translated with the same attention to detail and technical accuracy as the native language in which they were originally written.

Legal Translation

Attorneys demand quick turnaround and creative solutions to their translation projects. They turn to Northwest Translations to provide these services as well as complete attention to detail to the specific technical aspect of the engagement. Our legal translators meet the competency requirements of EN 15038:2006 and are native language experts with multiple years of legal experience.

Technical and Engineering Translation

Northwest Translations' linguists work in over 100 languages and are specially trained in the translation of technical manuals, AutoCAD drawings, graphical interface menus, and GUIs. Our process is fully turn-key. We provide creative solutions to minimize our clients' expenses without sacrificing quality. We can accommodate tight ship dates without additional rush charges. Our technical translation specialists meet the competency requirements of EN 15038:2006 and are native language experts who focus on engineering and technical translations. Engineers will appreciate the quality and attention to detail we bring to technical and engineering projects.

Advertising and Marketing Translation

Translating sales, marketing and advertising materials is a specialty unto itself requiring unique translators adept at cultural sensitivity and nuances. Northwest Translations' linguists meet the competency requirements of EN 15038:2006 and are native language experts with creative and copywriting experience. Equally as important they have in-country cultural experience that allows them to comprehend and seamlessly translate your sales, marketing and advertising materials into accurate, culturally correct, engaging and nuance-specific final documents.

Multilingual Desktop Publishing

Our multilingual Desktop Publishing team provides full formatting of your foreign language materials to match the original document. Whether you need AutoCad drawings, InDesign newsletters, FrameMaker Manuals, or a variety of other software deliverables, our specialists have the technical qualifications to meet, and exceed, your specific needs.

EN 15038:2006 Certification

Northwest Translations was EN 15038:2006 certified October 15th 2010.

We are a US translation company based outside Philadelphia, PA. We felt that the European Union standard is the best and most stringent in the world to show our clients that our processes internally are the best they can be. We also chose TÜV based in Germany to provide our auditing, again because of their well-known leadership position in the auditing industry.

Many US and European Translation companies have long felt the need for a reliable method of demonstrating the quality of the services they provide to their customers. Many sought ISO 9001 certification as a demonstration of their commitment to quality management systems. However, as the ISO 9001 standard does not address the sort of translation-specific processes which many translators consider important in determining quality outcomes, this standard did not become widely accepted as a "guarantee of quality" in the industry. In 2006, a quality standard, specifically written for the translation industry, EN 15038, was published by CEN, the European Committee for Standardization. This was a serious attempt to provide certification of translation-specific quality management using independent, on-site audits by recognized certification bodies. This standard is gaining acceptance worldwide and the European Union has begun including it as a baseline for quality in their procurement of translation services.
